Khrushchev Interrupts Weekend Rest to Attend; Disarmament Also Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)-Soviet Premier Khrushchev interrupted his weekend rest from politics to attend an extra U.N. General Assembly meeting today and the stage was set quickly for a battle over the admission of Red China to membership.

At the same time the Russians moved to speed up plenary session debate on disarmament through bypassing committee action and placing the ticklish question directly before the full assembly,

Defense Spending To be increased

WASHINGTON (AP -- The Pentagon has marked an extra $169 million for defense spending. Much of a will go toward speeding up development of the Polaris submarine missile.

Democrats have accused the administration of refusing to spend a large part of the $661.6 million voted by Congress in addition to the administration's $40.8 billion defense budget for the current fiscal year. But the administration has denied Democratic charges that the extra funds were frozen. A Detense Department spokesman said that after Friday's allotments, a $274.7 million of the extra diiense money appropriated by Congress still is not earmarked. He said the subject is under review by top officials. He also emphasized that the new funds cleared for spending were approved by the Bureau of
